Who are we?

The GT/LD Network is a non-profit organization run by volunteers to support gifted students who learn differently and has been a local and national resource for more than two decades. Active members include parents, students, school administrators, teachers, and clinicians.

How we can help...

We can help you navigate the sometimes confusing world of IEPs, 504s plans, and other special education terms and services. We hold monthly meetings featuring informative speakers and an opportunity to network with other parents with similar experiences.

We sponsor conferences with nationally-known experts on a variety of topics such as executive function, dyslexia, non-verbal learning disabilities in order to help bright, underachieving students reach their academic potential.
